1. Introduction

The Quality Assurance Framework (QAF) sets out how Trent Education Centre (TEC) assures and enhances the quality of its academic programmes and related services, from further education and English language courses up to and including higher education. TEC recognises that student achievement and student experience are interdependent, shaped by all aspects of TEC's provision, its estates, and its relationships with students, staff, partners, awarding bodies/organisations, regulators and other stakeholders.

The QAF is the overarching system under which all quality-related activities are governed. It incorporates six quality assurance domains (Table 1) and ten quality stages of the quality process cycle (Figure 1), each of which is monitored, evaluated and enhanced through a structured and cyclical set of quality-focused activities across the organisation. The QAF is aligned with TEC's committee structure as set out in the Governance and Academic Management Framework (GAMF), the TEC Strategic Plan 2024–28, and the expectations of external regulators including the Office for Students (OfS), the Quality Assurance Agency (QAA), the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA), the Office of the Independent Adjudicator (OIA), GDPR, and statutory safeguarding and Prevent Duty requirements. Each domain, and its constituent activities, is governed through a coherent quality assurance structure that defines the responsibilities of the Academic Board (AB), the Senior Management Team (SMT) and the Board of Governors (BoG), TEC's supreme decision-making body.

By setting out clear responsibilities, reporting lines and quality processes, the QAF ensures that TEC operates transparently, consistently and effectively. It enables students to benefit from high-quality holistic learning, teaching, assessment, support and progression opportunities. It also ensures that TEC remains compliant, sustainable and continuously improving as it expands its provision and strengthens its role in widening participation and supporting adult learners through further education and English language courses into higher education and career success.

2. Regulatory Context

TEC has applied to the Office for Students (OfS) to become a registered provider of designated higher education. Although TEC is not currently registered with the OfS, the QAF has been designed to ensure TEC is fully aligned with the OfS Conditions of Registration and operationally ready for registration once approved.

For programmes delivered under licence from awarding bodies or organisations, TEC follows the academic standards, assessment regulations and quality requirements set by the awarding organisation/body, in line with sector-recognised standards. Advanced entry, RPL and articulation follow awarding organisation/body regulations and must be approved before admission.

3. Purpose and Scope

The QAF provides a systemic approach to the oversight and management of quality assurance and enhancement across all aspects of TEC's provision and services. It sets out the processes required to ensure that the student experience and achievements, organisational governance, partnership and programme development, academic standards, operational sustainability, compliance, and regulatory obligations are maintained and continuously improved through structured monitoring, evaluation and enhancement mechanisms.

The Framework applies to all TEC academic programmes; teaching, learning and assessment activities; estates; academic and professional service staff; committees and boards; and all quality assurance, compliance, safeguarding, student support and engagement processes across TEC. All TEC policies, procedures and tools related to quality assurance sit under this Framework. It defines the quality-related roles of the Board of Governors, Academic Board, Senior Management Team, Managing Director, Executive Principal, Head of Quality, Head of Partnerships and Compliance, Head of Operations, Programme Leaders and academic teams, student support and admissions staff, and student representatives.

4. Aims and Objectives

TEC's Quality Assurance Framework (QAF) aims to ensure that TEC achieves its vision, mission and strategic priorities.

Vision

To become a leading provider of lifelong learning, supporting adults from basic skills and further education through to higher education and sustained career success.

Mission

To provide students in local communities with the holistic education they need to enhance their life opportunities.

Two of TEC's Strategic Priorities explicitly relate to quality across all curricula:

- Deliver high-quality learning, teaching and assessment from basic skills up to and including university-level education.
- Develop the quality and international recognition of TEC's English language courses to meet the needs of local and international students aiming to improve their life chances.

To achieve these aims, the QAF ensures that:

- All staff and the Board of Governors understand the six quality assurance domains and the ten stages of the Quality Cycle that are detailed below.
- All staff and the Board of Governors understand their role in monitoring, evaluating and enhancing quality to improve student outcomes and the overall student experience.
- TEC integrates its internal quality assurance mechanisms with the quality requirements of regulators, accreditation bodies, PSRBs, partners and awarding organisations/bodies.
- Quality assurance is self-reflective at all three levels: staff, Academic Board/Senior Management Team, and Board of Governors.
- All stakeholders, including staff and students, contribute to quality assurance and enhancement.
- All stakeholders are encouraged and expected to provide transparent, accurate and up-to-date information relating to quality without fear of penalty (see the Whistleblowing Policy and Anti-Fraud Policy).
- The Head of Quality, reporting to the Academic Board, Senior Management Team and Board of Governors, leads the development of the QAF and the implementation of the Quality Cycle across the ten stages of quality throughout the year.
- Quality assurance activities are conducted periodically throughout the year and involve all staff, stakeholders and all aspects of TEC's provision and services.
- The Board of Governors receives an Annual Academic Monitoring Review (AAMR) from the Academic Board and an Annual Operational Review (AOR) from the Senior Management Team every November, each with Improvement Plans for the following year.
- Quality assurance at TEC is aligned with the Office for Students (OfS) Conditions B1–B5 and B7 as part of TEC's readiness for OfS registration.
- Quality assurance covers partnership and programme development, admissions, learning, teaching and assessment, marking and feedback standardisation, lesson observations, peer observations and reviews, staff development (CPD) and performance (appraisals), internal and external verification/moderation, unit/module evaluations and surveys (including NSS/SPQ), student complaints and appeals, academic integrity and misconduct, student voice and engagement, estates and resources, operational readiness, regulatory compliance (e.g. safeguarding and Prevent, Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI), GDPR), governance and accountability.

5. Quality Assurance Domains

The following table shows the quality assurance domains in which all of the quality assurance activities and requirements are incorporated.

Table 1 Quality Assurance Domains¹

#	QA Domain	Under whose remit
1	Curriculum Design, Development & Review	AB & SMT
2	Regulatory Compliance	AB & SMT
3	Student Engagement and Experience	AB & SMT
4	Operational Effectiveness	SMT
5	Assurance of Academic Governance	AB
6	Academic Delivery	AB

5.1. Curriculum Design, Development & Review

This domain ensures that TEC's programme, modules and assessments, including those of any partner organisation TEC delivers for, are academically credible and sound, aligned with QAA, FHEQ, Occupational Standards and awarding-body/organisation specifications, and updated through structured programme approval, modification and curriculum enhancement processes. It governs curriculum quality, coherence and continuous improvement across all FE, ELT and HE provision.

5.2. Regulatory Compliance

This domain ensures TEC meets all statutory and regulatory obligations, including OfS Conditions A-E and in particular B1–B5 and B7, CMA, GDPR, Prevent Duty, safeguarding, EDI and HESA requirements. It provides assurance that TEC's policies, systems, reporting and operations comply with external regulators, awarding bodies and organisations, accreditation bodies and legal frameworks.

5.3. Student Engagement and Experience

This domain ensures that students are active participants in their learning, teaching and assessments including quality assurance through representation in boards and committees up to and including the highest level (BoG), feedback, surveys, module evaluations and engagement analytics. It oversees the quality of the student experience, continuation, completion and progression, and ensures that student voice informs enhancement across teaching, support services and curriculum.

5.4. Operational Effectiveness

This domain ensures TEC's estates, resources, staffing, digital systems, timetabling, MIS, financial sustainability and operational readiness support high-quality academic delivery and support services. It covers workforce planning, HR compliance, business continuity, due diligence and the operational feasibility of programmes and partnerships.

¹ See Appendix 4 for a table showing all the quality assurance monitoring activities required annually under each QA domain.

5.5. Assurance of Academic Governance

This domain ensures academic standards, assessment integrity, internal and external verification, external examiner oversight, academic policies, appeals and misconduct processes are robust and consistently applied. It provides academic assurance to the Board of Governors through the Academic Board and its committees.

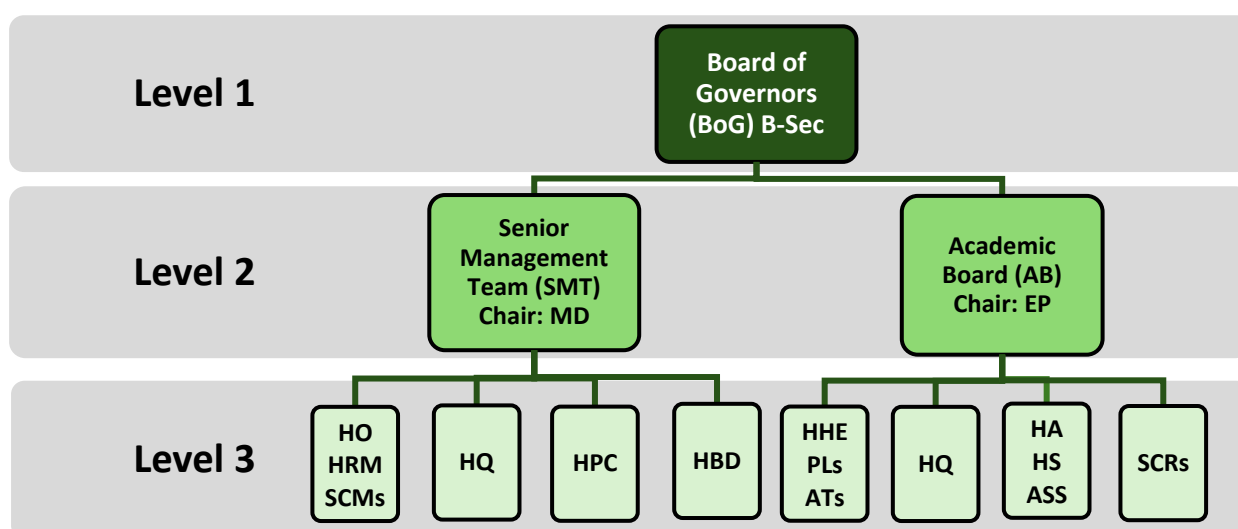

5.6. Academic Delivery

This domain ensures high-quality teaching, learning and assessment across all programmes through lesson observations, module evaluations, teaching analytics, CPD impact, assessment design and feedback quality. It monitors academic performance, attainment, progression and the effectiveness of teaching practice.

6. Governance and Oversight of Quality

Quality assurance at TEC has three levels of oversight as shown in the chart below, which is aligned to the committee and board structure detailed in the Governance and Academic Management Framework.

Table 2 Levels of Oversight

Key People

Role	Abb	Role	Abb
Managing Director	MD	Study Centre Managers	SCMs
Executive Principle	EP	HR Manager	HRM
Head of Higher Education	HHE	Head of Safeguarding	HS
Head of Quality & Director of Studies	HQ	Programme Leaders	PLs
Head of Partnerships and Compliance	HPC	Academic Teams	ATs

Head of Admissions	HA	Student Council Reps	SCRs
Head of Business Development	HBD	Board Secretary	B-Sec

See Appendix 1 for a description of all these roles and responsibilities in relation to quality assurance.

7. Learning Analytics Framework

Learning analytics at TEC refers to the systematic collection, analysis and interpretation of data about students and their learning in order to improve teaching quality, curriculum effectiveness, student support and student outcomes. TEC uses learning analytics to monitor continuation, completion and progression, identify performance gaps across demographic groups, evaluate module-level attainment, track attendance and engagement patterns, and support early-intervention processes for students at risk. Analytics are drawn from admissions data, attendance systems, VLE activity, assessment outcomes, Course Quality Reviews, external examiner feedback, external reports and student surveys. The Head of Quality synthesises these analytics into actionable insights for Programme Leaders, the Academic Board and the Board of Governors, ensuring alignment with OfS Condition B3 and enabling evidence-based decision-making that enhances academic quality, equity and student success.

8. Annual Quality Reports

Two key annual reports are submitted to the Board of Governors in November every year. The first is the Annual Academic Monitoring Review (AAMR) submitted by the Academic Board, which compiles all Course Quality Reviews submitted by the Course Committees for the year, along with student admissions, student performance analytics and metrics, student surveys and module evaluations, lesson observation outcomes, external examiner and monitoring review reports and any other evidence related to academic quality and standards as stated in Office for Students B1-B5 and B7. The purpose of the AAMR is to identify the strengths of TEC's academic provision and governance and identify areas for improvement and enhancement that will have a positive impact on the student experience.

The second report is the Annual Operational Review (AOR) submitted by the Senior Management Team, which compiles all SMT reports on operational effectiveness and business development including estates, resources, staff recruitment, management and performance, financial management, compliance, risk management and due diligence.

Table 3 Annual Reviews

Function	Academic	Operational

Responsibility	Academic Board (AB)	Senior Management Team (SMT)
Submitted to	Board of Governors	Board of Governors

See Appendix 3 for the structures for these reports with 12 sections and suggested content in each section.

9. Quality Enhancement Mechanisms

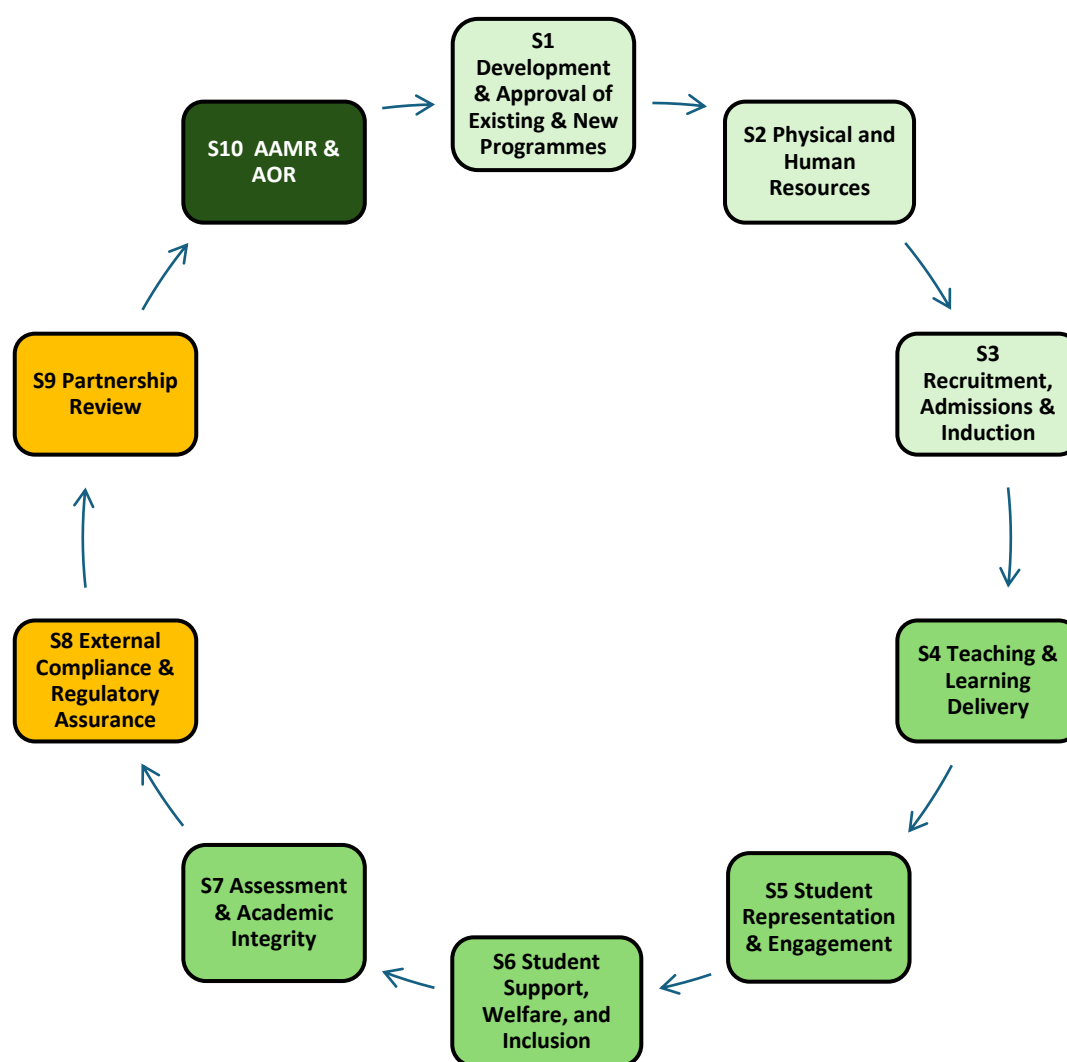

Quality enhancement at TEC is the deliberate, systematic and continuous process of improving learning, teaching, assessment, curriculum design, student support and the overall student experience. Enhancement is distinct from quality monitoring: monitoring identifies issues, while enhancement drives improvement. Enhancement activities include curriculum redesign subject to the approval of the awarding organisation/body, pedagogical innovation particularly in relation to TEC's holistic approach identified in the Strategic Plan, improvements to assessment integrity, strengthening academic support, addressing performance gaps, responding to student feedback, and implementing recommendations from external examiners, reviewers, awarding bodies/organisations and regulators.

Enhancement priorities are identified through the following enhancement mechanisms: Course Quality Reviews, AAMR findings, student surveys, module evaluations, learning analytics, external examiner reports and strategic KPIs. They are also derived from the annual Operation Improvement Plan and Academic Improvement Plan that are submitted each year to BoG. Academic enhancement actions are approved by the Academic Board, and operational enhancement actions are approved by SMT, and both are reported to the Board of Governors to provide assurance that TEC continuously improves and remains aligned with its Strategic Plan and regulatory expectations.

10. Quality Cycle

The TEC Quality Cycle is a structured set of quality assurance activities that occur throughout the academic year. The diagram below provides an overview of the annual cycle of activities that generally flow through 10 quality assurance stages each year. It shows the connection between academic and operational assurance and the flow of assurances to the Board of Governors. Although cyclical from year to year, it is not a closed cycle, because some activities such as Programme Development and Approval may only occur in certain years whereas other activities such as Recruitment, Admissions and Induction may occur at multiple times of the year, depending on partner, operational, academic, student and regulatory needs.

QAF recognises that quality assurance at TEC is not a single cycle but a continuous, year-round set of processes. Different quality activities occur at different points in the academic year depending on the operational and academic requirements of partner organisations, awarding bodies and organisations, regulators, and students.

11. Partnership Governance Model

TEC's Partnership Governance Model ensures that all academic and operational partnerships are subject to rigorous oversight, compliance monitoring and quality assurance. This model applies to all academic and operational aspects of programmes delivered by TEC in partnership with other organisations. The Academic Board oversees academic quality, standards, assessment integrity and curriculum alignment for partner-delivered programmes, while the Senior Management Team oversees operational feasibility, due diligence, safeguarding, Prevent, EDI, GDPR, estates readiness and business continuity. Each partner is assigned a risk rating based on academic performance, compliance history, student outcomes, operational reliability and awarding-body requirements. Annual Partnership Reviews evaluate curriculum delivery, assessment processes, student satisfaction, continuation and progression, compliance with CMA and regulatory obligations, and alignment with TEC's Strategic Plan. The Head of Quality coordinates partnership documentation, monitoring reports and action plans, ensuring that all partner provision meets TEC's academic standards and regulatory expectations. Partnership assurance flows from Course Committees → AB and SMT → BoG.

12. Publishing and Reviewing the QAF

The Quality Assurance Framework (QAF) alongside the Governance and Academic Management Framework (GAMF) forms one of TEC's core documents. QAF provides assurances that TEC has the academic governance required to meet its strategic priorities and objectives. QAF is drafted by the Head of Quality, reviewed by the Senior Management Team for operational alignment, and formally approved by the Academic Board. The Board of Governors receives assurance of academic governance through QAF but does not approve academic governance documents. The QAF is reviewed annually before the start of the academic year (every August) by the Head of Quality and following review by the SMT for operational alignment and approval by the Academic Board, is published on the TEC website.
